Hospitality Management Panel

The hospitality management major held its first student-industry engagement panel last month. The panel afforded students the opportunity to interact with industry executives and ask industry and career-related questions.

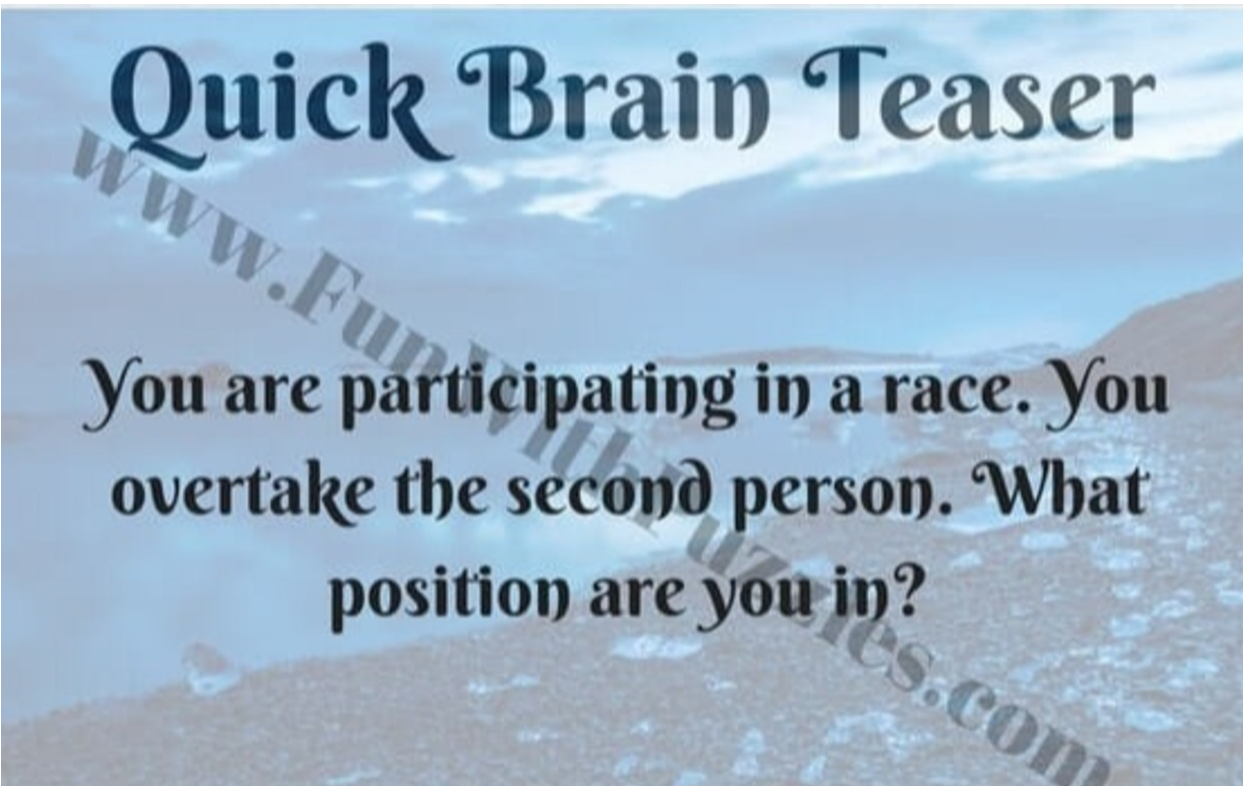

Key points from the panel were:

- The hospitality industry had its strongest growth and profitability prior to the pandemic and will rebound after the pandemic.
- The industry is innovative, and the pandemic allowed the industry to develop and incorporate new practices and systems.
- Students should be ready for career opportunities after the pandemic as new career opportunities in hospitality management will be available.
