

KENNESAW STATE UNIVERSITY

Double Owl Pathway of Study

EFFECT TERM: Fall 2023

Undergraduate Program Name: Psychology

Graduate Program Name: Master of Social Work (MSW)

Pathway Description: The Psychology major affords students with excellent knowledge and research and field experience that will be beneficial to understanding the skills, knowledge, and values associated with the Master of Social Work. The Double Owl Pathway in Psychology - Master of Social Work is an ideal program for students desiring a career in a profession that is designed to “enhance human well-being and meet the basic and complex needs of people with a particular focus on those who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty. It is a profession with meaning, action, diversity, satisfaction, and a variety of options” (NASW).

Students who completed the Psychology undergraduate major and Master of Social Work at KSU can pursue advanced licensure and clinical practice, and/or doctoral studies. Employment options include but are not limited to Behavioral Analysis, School Social Work, Medical Social Work, executive leadership/management in nonprofit organizations and public agencies like the Department of Family and Children Services. Students enrolled in the Master of Social Work program have the option of seeking dual enrollment with the Master of Business Administration program.

Course Pairs:

Double Owl Scholars will NOT take the following [Psychology] courses:	In their place, Double Owl Scholars will take the following [MSW Program] courses:
Upper Division Electives	SW 7700
	SW 7702
	SW 7704

PATHWAY TOTAL: 120 + 60 - 9 = 171

Term Students apply for Double Owl Pathway: (Spring, Junior Year)

Term Students can apply for full graduate admission: (Fall, Senior Year)